Kathy's professional assistance regarding marketing and selling the contents of my mother's home took a lot of stress off me as executor living 180 miles from the estate. From our first meeting, her knowledge and enthusiasm gained my confidence. Not living close to my mother's estate, the process on my own would have been overwhelming. Nicely, the revenue from the sale was on the high end of Kathy's estimate and I received a check a week after the sale. Kathy did her research and was knowledgeable regarding the finer pieces. She kept in contact giving me choices as she went along researching the value of household contents. The process of losing one's parents and the endless work involved dealing with their estate is something we are not prepared for. Kathy and her company truly gave great professional assistance and a sense of comfort to me. Kathy, thank you. George (Dr. George Heinemann Redding, CT)
